"Helping you to clear clutter and feel -

Better!"

Issue 11 - January 2010
'New Year - New Service!'

Dear Friends of Organised Chaos

Happy New Year and welcome to the first Chaotic Times of 2010!

I'm very excited to be launching a New Service and a Special Offer for Readers, with this issue, so read on to find out more.

New Year inevitably makes us look back and consider our achievements for the year that has just ended. 2009, a year of recession has not been a good one for many people.

I certainly had less work during the summer than the previous year, but it has given me time to think of ways to develop Organised Chaos so I can help even more people discover the benefits of living a less cluttered life.

Recent Organised Chaos clients will be aware that I now issue a client feedback form, so I can get your thoughts on how the service worked for you. The service I provide today has gradually evolved as a result of feedback, and I regularly review and update what's on offer.

Did my December issue get you thinking about how you could take advantage of the new year to achieve your de-cluttering goals?

If so, please get in touch and let me know how you're getting on. Success stories always inspire others and help them get motivated too.

If you're still dithering, perhaps my Special Offer will persuade you to take the plunge.

Book a de-clutter session before the end of January and claim 10% discount. This offer applies to new and existing clients, simply quote 'Chaotic Times January Offer'. normal terms and conditions apply.

LAUNCHING

Telephone Consultations!

Background:

For a while now, I have been aware that some potential clients don't need as much help as others.

Up until now, the only service available from Organised Chaos has been the original hands-on practical help with your de-cluttering.

This physical help is the perfect solution for clients with extensive clutter issues. This core service is particularly effective for anyone who wants or needs a quick fix for a long-standing problem area.

How You Could Benefit from a Telephone Consultation:

Maybe you just want some advice on how to tackle a cluttered area, or you need help getting motivated and staying motivated. If you think you have the capacity to work on the problem alone, but just don't know where to start, then this service is for you.

Telephone Consultations are a cost effective solution for anyone on a budget. Assuming you act on my advice, you could de-clutter a room for as little as £25!

How it works:

Firstly, get in touch and give me a brief description of your problem area. You could even e-mail me a photo of it!

I call you at the appointed time and make suggestions as to how you can tackle your clutter, based on AIDA, my four point action plan. You will receive an inclusive booklet by e-mail explaining how AIDA works, so you won't have to make notes as we talk.

The Formalities!

It's easy for you to book a Telephone Consultation. Simply provide me with contact details and an invoice address. Payment must be received before the consultation can go ahead. Calls can be made to land lines or via Skype. If you only have access to a mobile phone then you will need to contact me.

One session will be enough if you just need a nudge in the right direction. If you want ongoing support, why not book 3 sessions? This saves you £5 and the sessions can be spaced to suit your schedule.

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY PRICE!

45 minute sessions @ £25 each

3 x 45 minute sessions @ £70

(saving £5 on individual session price when booked together)

Well, I look forward to hearing from you with any feedback or queries on the new service, until next month,

*Best regards,
Judith*
