Issue 15 - May 2010
'Launching the Clutter Clinic'

Dear Friends of Organised Chaos

Welcome to the May edition of Chaotic Times!

- ◆ Would you like to be more organised?
- ◆ Are you always in a muddle?
- ◆ Do you waste time and energy looking for things?
- ◆ Would you like advice on how to choose the best storage?

My guess is that if you've answered 'yes' to most of these questions, then life could be a lot easier for you, provided you're prepared to make a few simple changes.

This is not about intensive and radical de-cluttering, just having the necessary guidance to install some order into your home.

Organised Chaos is not just about de-cluttering, I want to help as many people as possible to live calmer lives by helping them get organised.

Regular readers will be familiar with my on-site and telephone service for helping people de-clutter, but this month I'm launching something aimed at those of you who just need a nudge in the right direction.

I've spent a couple of months pondering this question and decided that the new service needed to be interactive and practical, but above all it had to be fun!

The Clutter Clinic takes place at your house when you invite round a few friends who would all like to learn some useful tips on getting organised.

What's Involved?

Hosting an Organised Chaos Clutter Clinic is the ideal way for you and a group of friends to pick up handy tips on how to get organised. My aim is for you to be motivated to tackle your own de-cluttering with confidence!

During a typical clinic, you and your friends will:

- ◆ Explore what creates your personal clutter, enabling you to take control
- ◆ Discover AIDA - the Organised Chaos 4 point action plan for effective de-cluttering
- ◆ Find out how inappropriate storage solutions can make a bad situation even worse!
- ◆ Get hints and tips relevant to your own situation

PLUS!

- ◆ 'Clutter Clinic Notes' booklet summarising the main points for each person attending the clinic, as well as the chance to purchase 'Really Useful Boxes.'

The Clutter Clinic is for between 4 and 8 people and will last between two and three hours. Cost per person is just £15. Non-local Clutter Clinics may be subject to a travel contribution. Please call or e-mail to book, or enquire for more information.

“Get Tips on Effective Storage!”

Gearing up for Gardening!

By the time you read this even the most reluctant gardeners will have dusted off the lawnmower and be cursing the rate at which the weeds are multiplying.

Like any other job, gardening is so much easier if you're organised. If your shed is a heap of half-empty compost bags, broken flower pots and rusty tools then it's time to take stock.

This month I'm offering readers a 2 hour 'Spring Shed de-clutter' for the special price of £48 (normal hourly rate £30). To qualify, the session must be booked before 1st June. Please note that a travel supplement will apply to jobs outside the Daventry area.

Well, I hope I have inspired you to get some order into your life, whether it's by booking a Clutter Clinic or taking advantage of my special offer to oust the tat from your shed!

Judith*
